President Ruth McPhail

Welcome Members to this October edition of the RQAS GC Newsletter.

This is my second time in the role of President of RQAS GC. Sincere thanks to members for the confidence and trust shown in electing me and the new committee for 2022 – 2023. I'd like to start by thanking Michael Hooper for his service to the Society by stepping up as President last year and safely guiding us throughout the year to the AGM. Much was accomplished by the outgoing committee and I look forward to working with the new Committee in continuing the valuable work of the Society.

I would like to acknowledge the passing of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and her life of service. The RQAS GC held a morning tea on the National Day of Mourning in her honour. Her dedication to duty is without exception as the longest serving monarch in history. It is also a time to look forward to the reign of King Charles III who is an artist himself and a great supporter of the arts.

At this time of transition we, as a Society, should also look to where we have come from and where we would like to go in the future. Where will we be in 50 or even 100 years? How can we set the Society on the path to achieve valuable goals long after our time has passed? These are some of the bigger picture questions this Committee will consider.

Next year, the 20th of September 2023 to be exact, we will turn 60. The RQAS GC branch was formed at a meeting held on Chevron Island in 1963. We will celebrate our history as a Society and our future in the lead up to this significant milestone. For now, we will focus on some exciting developments that have come to fruition after decades of effort and planning.

When I joined the Society and then became the President, in my first term, I quickly learned that there were lots of new ideas – plans for a lift, a café and much more. Previously I served as President for four years and am honoured to again take up the role going forward with a view to helping see some more of these ideas become a reality.

As a final note I would like to thank those who have stepped up and been elected to join the Committee. Everyone has views on how things should be done and these individuals will work and find time to serve us all. We should have the highest respect and gratitude for Committee members. I look forward to updating you further in the next edition on the next steps of our journey together.

Sunday 9 OCTOBER is the next Art in the Park event (every second Sunday of the month). Bring the art you'd like to sell. Set up early if you wish. Showcase your artistic skills with a demonstration of painting!

The success of this kind of monthly event depends on all of us - you and me! The more gazebos and market umbrellas in the park the better. People are attracted to people doing interesting things in public spaces.

Bring out those stored away paintings and show them to the passers-by. Bring your paints, easels, canvases or boards. Showcase your artistic skills and sell some art!

Angela McClavey – Secretary 2022 - 2023

A member of RQAS for many years Angela is a retired teacher who has found time to become more involved in the society. As RQAS newly elected Secretary Angela said she looks forward to contributing to our very valuable art society over the coming year.

Angela became interested in art while travelling with her husband in Europe and the United States as they visited many famous galleries. Turner, Monet and Singer Sargent became her favourite artists. She and her husband travelled around France in a canal boat every year and thought the experience was both wonderful and fortunate.

Sadly, her husband passed away suddenly, just after Angela retired. She has a family of three sons, all happily married, with seven grandchildren. She said that she leads a full life and, as lots of retired people say, doesn't know when she found time to work!

Angela said she is grateful to Kevin Taylor and John McConnochie who have helped her along her artistic path. She enjoys painting in acrylics and oils and finds using the palette knife exciting, never knowing what will happen.

William Rees – Vice President 2022 - 2023

I started out painting when I left school in Ballarat in the early sixties. My first teacher was Audrey Alnutt. She was a very well known local artist who taught only watercolours. After two years Audrey left Ballarat and I began art classes with Geoffrey Mainwaring. He is a featured artist in the National War Memorial in Canberra, where many of his artworks are on permanent display. Geoffrey was very traditional in his ideas, but he taught me how to paint in oils.

After I left Ballarat in early 1973, I bought into an Interior Decorating business in Melbourne. I soon realised this is the career I wanted to pursue. With training, I soon learnt how to co-ordinate colours very quickly. I always had an interest in art, but because I was very busy building up my new business, I couldn't devote much time to it.

It wasn't until I sold my business in Melbourne in 1982 and moved to Queensland, that I was able to take up my interest in art once again. I painted under the guidance of Ali Braybrooks for a couple of years and when I became a member of RQAS Broadbeach, I joined Kevin Taylors' class, which I attended for two years.

Because I wanted to get into creative art, I joined Mal Hodges class. Mal changed my style of art immensely. He taught me how to become more creative and how to go about using bright and bold colours. That experience with Mal was invaluable to me.

Of recent times, I was being guided through a more impressionist style of art by Errol Pike. Errol uses flashy finishes with bright colours predominantly using Acrylics., because it is easier to move colours around.

Currently I am involved with an art group at Currumbin where we meet every Friday. The group are extremely diverse and have been together now for almost ten years. Every artist in the group has different styles. All are members of RQAS Broadbeach and exhibit regularly. They are having great success both with sales and prizes in the different art shows throughout the Gold Coast area.

Next Change-over of artworks: Sat 29th October 2022 from 9am; also Fri 28th October 11am-2pm.

Workshop Outline

Have you always wanted to paint in watercolour, but are not sure where to start? Are you struggling with 'technique' and need to refresh on the basics?

This two-day workshop will focus on teaching the fundamentals of watercolour technique, explained clearly and simply alongside demonstrations that you can follow. Ideally, this workshop is suited to beginners, struggling intermediate painters or those wishing to improve their technique.

There is no 'one way' to paint in watercolour. Different approaches produce very different results, and the aim of this workshop is to explore the versatility of the medium and build confidence, through:

- brush control
- paint consistencies/values
- mixing colours
- wet on wet painting techniques
- glazing (painting on dry) techniques

About the tutor: Annette Raff is an award-winning Gold Coast artist and tutor. She holds a degree in Fine Art and has taught regular watercolour classes and workshops in the Gold Coast and regional venues in S.E. Qld for over 25 years.

What to bring:

A materials list will be sent to you once your place in the workshop is confirmed. Morning tea will be available each day. Please bring your own lunch. There are cafes nearby to purchase food and drink. Parking is available close by to the RQAS premises.

How to apply: Scan the QR code or visit <https://www.trybooking.com/CCLRX>. No. of Participants: Max 14.

DAPHNE VOLIN

Ever since I was a little girl I liked to draw or paint figurative subjects. 'Art and Art History' was my best subject at school. I won the annual art prize 3 years running. After leaving school I had to find work apart from art as my art was not earning. The Commercial Art option didn't appeal to me.

My life went in a different direction with marriage, work commitments and travel. Once in a while I brought out the sketch book, to sketch places where we stayed or visited. I liked to record interesting locations and buildings.

In the mid1970s, while living in New York, I had the opportunity to learn oil painting at the Art Students League as a part time student for 5 years. It was a great experience to be introduced to the medium by two notable US masters, David Leffel and (late) Ray Goodbred. One can Google them for details. David still demonstrates, as far as I know, in the classical style of the Old Masters.

Back home in Australia, art was put on hold again until 1999, 2 years after my husband passed away after 30 years together. I decided to take up art full time and became a member of RQAS Broadbeach. For several years I was on the committee and then active as gallery co-ordinator for another 2 or 3 years.

From 2001 until about 15 years ago I regularly exhibited and sold work at selected shows round the Gold Coast. I also entered, with success, two different Equine Art competitions, in Sydney and Toowoomba. Unfortunately the organizer had to discontinue these two popular events after only 2 years, as there weren't enough helpers to organize the shows. To date, I haven't heard or found any other Equine Art competitions re-emerging around the country. Daphne Volin
